Dan has 30 years' experience in hospitality and tourism in Australasia, with a particular focus on developing and delivering high end luxury travel experiences for corporate clients, leisure groups and individuals.

Formerly Managing Director of a pioneering private jet tour operator, Dan has decades of experience in sourcing and negotiating private jet charter contracts ranging from one day to three weeks and from a 12 seat Cessna to Airbus A380's.

Having travelled to more than 90 countries around the world and with long established partnerships with local contacts globally, Dan can use his expertise and knowledge to help clients plan and deliver travel content specifically suited to the brief.

With a Business Degree in Tourism, an MBA and a qualification from the Australian Institute of Company Directors, Dan is well placed to understand the commercial aspects of your charter needs.
